NIFTY CHART

Index is gradually moving higher and is approaching higher end of the range 12140. Close above 5 DEMA in previous session post occurrence of a spike around the 20 DEMA support zone displays relief post sharp downside. Weekly derivative data indicates sustained put writing at 11800 & 11900 strikes which also coincides around the support zone of its 20 DEMA. Daily RSI has still been stable above 50 and rests at signal line. We expect index to retain itself within the said range of 11660-12140 for few more weeks. Hence trading shorts within this range won't be advisable as mean reversion action is likely to exist. Aggressive longs could be considered once there is a meaningful breakout or pattern & volume confirmation is visible in future.
