NIFTY CHART

Nifty moved higher as expected on back of oversold oscillators and tested 11380; initial resistance levels. Being a corrective move the momentum noticed was higher and current bounce has further room on upside in coming sessions till 11450 levels. A breach above 11450 levels can lead to short covering and accelerate the move on the upside. Unless a break above 11600 levels is noticed short term trend continues to be on the downside. Approach should be to monitor any break above 11450 along with upside momentum to initiate longs for test of 11600 levels with stop below 11350.
