NIFTY CHART

Occurrence of a Spinning Top formation followed by a Bullish Bar on the Time Cycle confluence day marks some significance amidst this chaos. Also the traditional technique of Price & RSI divergence on the daily scale is providing a bullish signal. But until volatility cools off significantly the trading environment for short term traders would remain critical. Hence as per time & condition evolving this continues to be an ideal setup zone for investors to step up & start accumulating quality stocks in a staggered way, while Traders should get back to their normalised trading practices once VIX sees a good cool off in line with the evolving trend.
